

AspenTech to Feature Asset Optimization Expertise at CERAWeek 2018

February 27, 2018

BEDFORD, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Feb. 27, 2018-- Aspen Technology, Inc. (NASDAQ: AZPN), the asset optimization software company, today announced that it will attend CERAWeek 2018, taking place March 5-9, 2018 in Houston, Texas. Ranked as the top international event in the energy industry, CERAWeek provides insights into the future of energy and a forum for government officials, corporate executives and other leaders to engage on the most urgent issues facing the industry.

AspenTech President & CEO Antonio Pietri will speak at the CERAWeek Plenary, How Will Technology Disrupt the Oil Business? with executives from ConocoPhillips and other industry leaders. He will address how companies in complex, capital-intensive industries can drive reliability and achieve high returns on assets with a relentless focus on operational excellence, a holistic asset optimization strategy and a pragmatic execution roadmap.

AspenTech is an Industry Partner as well as an Innovation AgoraPartner and will be offering CERAWeek attendees an Innovation Agora Experience, a showcase for the emerging technologies that are converging to transform the Energy industry.

Additionally, AspenTech experts will participate in Exploration Pod sessions, offering practical insights into how the critical combination of real-time data, advanced analytics enabled by machine learning and rich process knowledge are making the best companies even better.
